

No Tears, no Trust.

Said a bluff old gentleman, an officer of one of the railroads running into Chicago: "Once in New York City a party of us sat in a box at the theatre 'Hazel Kirke' was the play. None of us had ever seen it. I shed a tear or two quietly and unobserved, but rough old Gen. McTear cried like a baby. He was president of a Georgia railroad then, and in New York on business. He was a regular martinet in his profession, stern and unrelenting. He was an old bachelor, too, and so far as is known never had tender feelings towards woman or kin. He had lived a life solitary and absolutely unselfish. We were all surprised to see such emotion in such a man, but none of us said anything except young George—of Atlanta. He laughed at the old general's weakness.

"Can you witness such a scene as that with dry eyes?" inquired the general with all his old sternness of manner of speech.

"Why of course I can. I could laugh at it even as I laugh at you."

"See here George," said Gen. McTear, with great earnestness, "you are cashier of a bank in Atlanta. In that bank my company has thousands of dollars deposited. Immediately upon my return home every dollar of our deposits shall be withdrawn. You may be an honest man but I do not feel safe with our money in an institution where one of the responsible officers is a person who talks as you talk to-night."

"Upon his return to Atlanta the general did as he promised. And luckily, too, for less than six months that bank was nearly ruined by a heavy embezzlement by its cashier."

Brush the Cows.

But few farmers ever think it necessary that a cow should be brushed. We have seen neighbors laugh and ridicule what they called our over-neediness and fussiness, when the cows were curried and brushed twice a day, with as much care as was given to the horses. "What! currying a cow! Never heard tell of such a thing! But a cow needs it, even more than a horse; and for several reasons. A cow whose milk is used for food, unless she have a perfectly clean skin, cannot give clean milk, and then the butter will be bad. The skin should be in a perfectly healthy condition, and the blood pure, or the milk will be impure and unwholesome, and the butter or cheese will be tainted. Neither cleanliness nor healthfulness can be secured without regular brushing of the skin and the removal of all the filth which will gather upon ill kept cows. This should be done before the cows are milked, both morning and evening.

The morning cleaning should be a thorough one; a simple brushing to remove dust and loose hairs, will be sufficient for the evening. It will help very much, for both horses and cows to have the stables so floored that the animals can be kept from fouling themselves.—American Agriculturist.

Will Power a Young Man's Fortune.

President Gates, of Rutgers's college says: Every young man has a fortune in the fact of his youth. The energy of youth is unblinded by defeat, nor worn by hope deferred. With age one becomes more conservative and looks at as impossible what a younger person would endeavor to accomplish, in many cases with success. The effort, even if there be a failure, is a grand success. Self confidence, or self conceit, if you wish to call it so, is a great thing. A young man's fortune is not to be found in inherited wealth or social position. Every man is the arbiter of his own fortune. Gracious manners or business habits are good things to cultivate, but are not all. Will power is the young man's fortune. It is the essence of the man. A young man with only little will power is a foregone failure. It should be cultivated. Genius is a gift of God and should not cause pride, but an honest pursuit of duties is an exhibition of will power and is something to be proud of. Well directed, educated will power is what a young man needs.—Independent.

The Cost of a Painting.

"My, but these art works do run into money," remarked a passenger whose breath smelt like the south side of the Ohio river; "it beats all what fools some folks make over pictures. When I was in Chicago I saw a little painting, about a foot square, that was held at $500. 'Spect some simpleton will come along and buy it. If I had a million of money you'd never catch me paying $500 for a little painting like that."

"That's the way you talk," spoke up a bashful drummer, "but I'll bet that you've paid four times as much money for a painting not a tenth part as big."

"What me?"

"What kind of a painting?"

"The one on the end of your nose."—Chicago Herald.

LEXINGTON, Ky. Mr. John T. Bruce, of the United States Revenue Collector's Office, informed an editor of Daily Press, of this city, that for seven years he suffered terribly from rheumatism in his ankle, which most of the time was swollen to two or three times its natural size, and was so painful that he could not put his foot to the ground. After trying everything he could think of without obtaining relief, he at ten o'clock one morning applied St. Jacobs Oil, and shortly afterwards made two further applications. At three o'clock that afternoon the pain was gone; the swelling also disappeared, and the cure was as permanent as it was quick.

Salvation Oil, is what you want. It kills pain and cures the worst cases of rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, hoarseness, and headache. Take no "just as good." Price twenty-five cents a bottle.

VIRGINIUS GUANO!
(Registered in Virginia)
IMPORTED AND MANIPULATED BY
POWELL, MORSE AND CO.,
Hoffman's wharf, Accomac Co., Va.

This Guano is rich in Ammonia Phosphoric acid, commonly called plant food, and Potash: and is especially adapted to the growth of
Peas, Onions, Irish and Sweet Potatoes
and all other truck requiring a large amount of ammonia to force them to early maturity. When used on Corn, the farmers say that the extra fodder will about pay the cost of the Guano to say nothing of the gain in the quantity and quality of the ears. It has stood the severest practical tests in this and adjoining counties for the past two seasons by the side of Peruvian Guano and other high grade fertilizers, notwithstanding the drought of last season, it gave wonderful satisfaction in almost every instance, as the following testimonials from men of known standing will show.

Hoffman's Wharf, Accomac County, Va., Oct. 27.
Powell, Morse & Co.
Gentlemen—I used your Virginian Guano the past seasons and I take pleasure in recommending it to farmers. I used it on peas and sweet potatoes. On peas I put it side by side of Peruvian and they were picked at same time as those that had Peruvian under them, but those raised from Virginian, were better filled, the vines did not burn as quick and could be one more picking from them after the other were dried up. I consider it just the thing for the above crop. The potatoes I raised were as fine as any I ever saw, and the yield was increased very much. Shall use it again next season.
R. R. HUTCHINSON.

Powellton, Va., Jan. 5, 1885.
Messrs. Powell, Morse & Co.
Gentlemen—I wish to inform you that I gave your Virginian Guano a fair trial the past season, side by side with Peruvian Guano, both on round and sweet potatoes, and I can assure you that I will hereafter use nothing but your fertilizer, if it can be had. It holds better in dry weather than Peruvian Guano.
Jas. W. Edmonds

Grangeville, Accomack Co., Va., Jan 1 1885.
Messrs. Powell, Morse & Co.
Dear Sirs—My experience with the Virginian Guano last year, especially on sweet potatoes, was a very profitable one. It gave me more satisfaction than any other fertilizer used. I have to regret not using it more extensively which, with your permission, I shall endeavor this year. Yours respectfully,
J. E. Mapp

Willow Cottage, Va, Dec, 10, 1884.
Messrs. Powell, Morse & Co.
Gentlemen—I have used your Virginian Guano for the last two years by the side of Peruvian Guano and other fertilizers, and am perfectly satisfied it is the best fertilizer on the market for all early trucks and corn. I don't think the world can beat it, shall use it in the future for all crops on the farm and the garden, in preference to all other commercial manures.
William T. Mason.

Read's wharf, Northampton Co., Va., Dec, 24, 1884.
Messrs. Powell, Morse & Co.
Gentlemen—We are glad to have a chance to recommend what we consider the best Guano now on this market, as far as we have tested it. We have used your Virginian Guano this year on new sweet potato land, and the result was very satisfactory. We regard it as being equal to Peruvian Guano, and better than any Phosphate we ever used, and we tried two other brands this year. We want to use Virginian the coming season
George H. Read

Locustville, Accomac Co, Va, Dec, 28, 1884.
Messrs. Powell, Morse & Co.
Gentlemen—I have used your Virginian Guano on Sweet Potatoes, and think it the best fertilizer I ever used on that crop. I consider it better than Peruvian Guano, as it did better for me. I expect to use it next year.
